

Intelligent Project Management

Get your Project moving

Mpulse is a young and dynamic management consultancy. Our focus is on helping public and private sector organisations realise their goals. Whether it's hands-on project management or strategic consultancy advice, you can be sure our specialist skills and experience will deliver the best solution. We simply provide our clients with the support they need to get the job done.

We can help take your project from inception to successful outcome, bringing people together to turn your vision into a reality. By involving us in the early stages of development, we can ensure your project is properly defined from the outset.

Our emphasis is always on the wider objectives. It's about making the correct decisions and doing the right project - not just about doing the project right. Our experience covers all types of projects - from individual building developments to major change programmes.

We offer support with:

- Business case development
- Option appraisal and selection
- Project definition and briefing
- Securing funding and investment
- Procurement
- Design management
- Risk management
- Project implementation
- Contract management
- Project management training

We also provide consultancy advice at a strategic level across a number of key business areas. With our assistance an organisation can find better ways to achieve their strategic objectives. We have completed a wide range of consultancy assignments.

We can help with:

- Strategic planning
- Financial management
- Change management
- Process development
- Operational efficiency
- Best practice and benchmarking
- Performance management

Blending experience and expertise

People are the key to delivering successful projects. Put a good team together with the right blend of experience and expertise and you have a winning combination.

That's why we have built our business on a broad multi-disciplinary, people-based approach rather than the latest management trend or methodology. By employing consultants with a diverse range of experience, we can create the right balance of skills for each individual project.

Our consultants become part of your team, forming an effective working partnership with the energy to get a project moving and the tenacity to find the best value-for-money solution.

We are there to enhance your team's capabilities whether it's contributing first-hand knowledge of an unfamiliar process, facilitating change or providing vital team leadership and management skills.

All our consultants are highly qualified task-oriented people with excellent academic and professional qualifications. They are good communicators and work well in teams. But more importantly, our consultants have a proven track record and a reputation for getting the job done.
